

PFYN-FINGES, A NATURE PARK OF NATIONAL SIGNIFICANCE

The nationally-significant Pfyng-Finges nature park is a prime site of biodiversity and wildlife in Switzerland. It offers activities all the year round.

Situated in the heart of the Valais, the Pfyng-Finges nature park fits into a limited space between the Rhône and its gravel islets, torrid steppes, dry pine forests, a tropical-looking alluvial forest, ponds and pastures.

This diversity, characterised by the presence of around a hundred extremely rare species, gives the Pfyng-Finges nature park its "nationally significant" status.

Did you know ?

To guide you during your visits, the Pfyng-Finges nature park offers themed excursions (tailored to the group) from February to November, as well as an information center, the Nature and Countryside Centre at Salgesch.
